IACA's Guidelines and Criteria for Currency Hall of Fame Nominations

Candidates for induction into the Currency Hall of Fame™ (CHF) will be individuals who have demonstrated outstanding achievements which have benefited their country's currency program and/or the world's currency industry.

- Candidates need not be in or from the industry, only to have made a contribution to the industry.
- A lifetime of service to the industry meriting consideration for the CHF normally will be evaluated after an individual has retired from their full-time/significant career in the industry, but not necessarily fully retired.
- Candidates may be nominated posthumously.
- A significant industry an event or a group may also be considered for induction.

About Nominations:

- Anyone may nominate a candidate for the CHF.
- Nominating sponsors will submit a written proposal detailing the reasons for consideration of the candidate PLUS a detailed biographical note. Whenever possible, the nomination also should include the candidate's resume/curriculum vitae.
- An inductee or a representative of must be present at the ceremony to be inducted to the CHF.

Nominations can be sent at any time to Marci.Chavez@currencyaffairs.org for possible inclusion in the next round of inductees.

The IACA Board of Directors will ultimately decide to whom this honour should be bestowed.

Criteria:

Nominees must be notable for their achievements in any of the following areas:

Innovation

- Discovered one or more innovation(s) which have been significant to the currency industry;
- Successfully introduced a theory, principle, innovation or technique that had a major impact on the subsequent discovery of one or more significant innovations;
- Overcame exceptional obstacles or difficulties (politics, financing, technology) in the introduction of one or more significant innovations.

Building the Industry

- Directed the successful development and/or start-up of significant industry companies or divisions;
- Demonstrated outstanding acumen or influence in establishing a major industry company;
- Assembled an outstanding team of individuals to carry on the work of building a major corporation;
- Displayed unusual managerial capability in directing one or more corporations over a career involving management of change, revitalization, etc.

Technical Contribution

- Developed or implemented one or more technologies or operating methods related to currency that had a significant impact on a company and ultimately the industry.